

अध्यक्ष महोदयस्य शुभेच्छावार्त्ता

I have enough pleasure to note that the students of Sanskrit Department endeavour to publish its printed magazine 'Arani'. They try to highlight the high philosophical flavour of Sanskrit literature. Sanskrit is not the language of religion. Rather we can have from it valuable message for future guidance of our society and culture.

I wish it all success.

Nepankar Hazra

Towards the publication of 'Araṇi' (अरणि)

In ancient India Vedic Seers prescribed to produce sacrificial fire by rubbing two pieces of wood. Those pieces of wood are known as 'Araṇi' (अरणि). Thus 'Araṇi' has got the inherent property to generate fire to regenerate holy fire.

Students of such tender age are like 'Araṇi's who presses huge prospects to interiorise spiritual energy by practising intellectual habits in the educational institution. By the process of acquiring knowledge in different areas they are expected to cultivate humanism. Their pursuit to the attainment to the social Values expands their heart, liberate their minds and develops their capabilities to understand the mental and material world. All these enrich their sense of reason which ultimately propels the society in right direction.

Thus, in essence they would acquire some properties in themselves which enable them to ignite the minds of their neighbouring fellows with their acquired qualities.

Our students with their unlimited limitation ventured to publish their magazine. Their humble endeavour deserves appreciation.

Let 'Araṇi' succeed to transmit inspiration to other students—

शिवारते सन्तु पन्थानः।

সূচীপত্র

বর্তমান জীবনের পটভূমিকায় উপনিষদের প্রাসঙ্গিকতা সুফল মোদক	৭
ব্রাহ্মণ্য সাহিত্য কমল গুপ্ত	৯
ঈশোপনিষদের দার্শনিক তত্ত্ব নিতাই বিশ্বাস	১১
কাব্যাদর্শ লীনা গোস্বামী	১২
তর্কসংগ্রহ : অভাবপদার্থ কৃষ্ণ দাস	১৪